

The Cleveland and Canton / Massillon Sections of ASM International
Invite you to attend:

Tour the Great Lakes Science Center!

Great Lakes Science Center
Rescheduled for: Tuesday, April 19, 2011
5:00-9:00 pm

Free Admission (with flyer)
Up to 8 students (with each accompanying adult) / class / school
Free Parking (This event only)

Would YOU Survive the Journey??

Find out if you have what it takes when you explore the intriguing exhibition, Facing Mars. Experience the real physical, psychological and scientific challenges involved in journeying to the Red Planet. Discover 28 entertaining and thought-provoking exhibits designed to fire your imagination about the possibilities that exploring Mars may hold for the future of humankind.

Special 6:00 and 7:15pm presentation, "Lessons from Columbia and NASA's Return to Flight" by Matthew E. Melis, Research Aerospace Engineer at NASA Glen Research Center

All GLSC exhibits open (except Food Court & OmniMax theater) for hands on learning.

Cleveland
Chapter

To Register or for more information visit www.asmcleveland.com, or contact Dave Brown, Student Affairs / Young Member Chair: DBrownBear@aol.com, 440-665-6077

For directions to The Great Lakes Science Center go to:
<http://www.glsc.org/visit/directions.php>

*Please feel free to copy and distribute to interested students / parents
For weather related questions on GLSC events call Amanda Bowen, 216.696.4941*

