

The Science and Engineering behind Environmentally Friendly Food Production at the Case Western Reserve University Farms

DRAFT: 111003

Dr. Ana B. Locci

Buildings design

New materials

Irrigation systems

Monitoring system

Insect controls

Sponsored by ASM International

When: Saturday,
November 12th,
2011

Time: 11:30 AM to 3 PM

Address:
37125 Fairmount Blvd.
Hunting Valley, OH

Program:

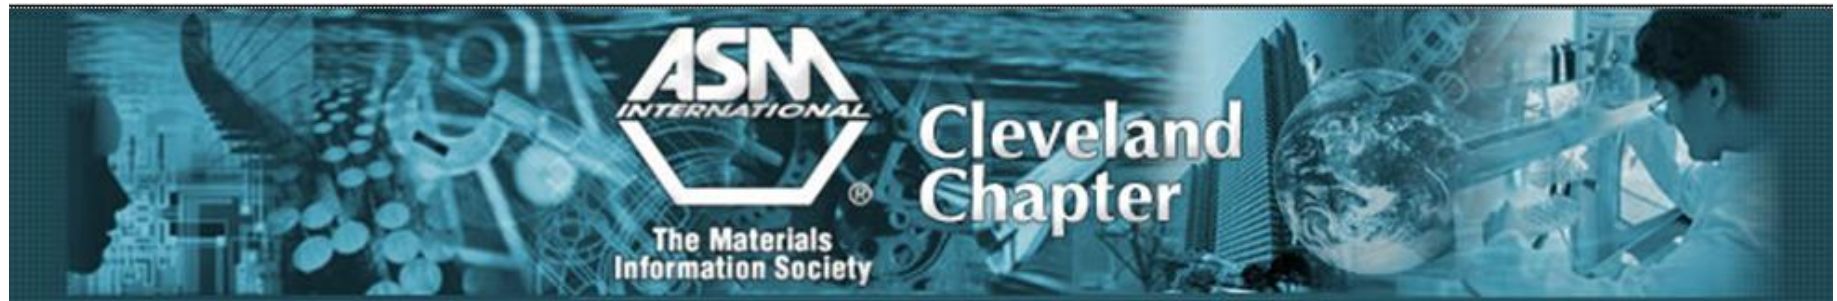

11:30 AM: Arrival

12:00PM: lunch

12:30: Presentation by the Farm director regarding various programs at the Farm, Food Program, contribution to sustainability program & facilities at the farm by biology and engineer students & CWRU professors, and future green programs.

1:30: Tour of the Green House, high tunnel house and garden areas and other sites (weather permitting).

3:00 PM: Departure

Directions to the Case Western Reserve Squire Valleevue and Valley Ridge Farms

